Sleighting parties were not numerous during the past two weeks on account of the sleighting not being very good, but about fifteen members of the Ladies Auxiliary, Division No. 1, A. O. H., took advantage of what sleighting there was and drove to DuBois last Thursday afternoon. They took supper at the Alpine House, where a number of DuBois ladies called on them.

The young ladies of Palestine, Ill., have hit upon a neat way of stopping church-door loafing. They have a permanent fund to be expended to keep the following advertising card standing in the newspaper of that place: "The Donkey Club of this city would inform the young ladies especially, and the public generally that they have made arrangements for an extensive demonstration on the steps in front of the Methodist Episcopal church—the members locating themselves on either side of the main entrance—on Sunday evening next. Positions taken immediately after the close of the religious exercises within."

The Glass Plant. Work on the erection of the glass plant is being pushed as rapidly as possible. The A. V. R'y Co. has not put in a switch yet, which is a disadvantage to the glass company.

"O'Hooligan" To-Night. "O'Hooligan's Masquerade," which appeared at Fuller's last night, drew quite a large house. There was not much plot to the play, but the predicaments which the two Irish characters, "Mike O'Hooligan" and "Pat Malone," got into, were amusing enough to keep the audience in good humor all evening. The specialties were good. The company carries a band and orchestra.—DuBois Courier, Jan. 9th. At the Reynolds opera house to-night.

Joint Installation. The G. A. R. and W. R. C. of this place held a joint installation in the Bell hall last Friday evening. J. Vernon Bell, of DuBois; at 3.00 p. m. a fraternal meeting will be held at which time short addresses will be made by local pastors; at 7.00 p. m. Rev. H. R. Johnston, of New Wilmington, Pa., former pastor of the Presbyterian church at this place, is expected to preach.

The Presbyterian congregation now has a very fine brick church, with a large seating capacity. The auditorium has been beautifully frescoed and repainted, making the entire interior of the church look like a new edifice. The auditorium and chapel are separated by rolling partition which makes it possible to throw the two rooms into one when necessary. The chapel will be used for Sunday school, Christian Endeavor and prayer meetings. It is seated with chairs. Off from the Sunday school room is the ladies' parlor, which will be nicely carpeted and furnished. The auditorium will be carpeted all over with a very pretty olive colored carpet. Don't Care for Wedding Expenses. Poles and Italians are very economic so far as dress and food are concerned, but they spend money freely for beer and whiskey. It is only on wedding occasions that they don't care for expenses and the bride "togs out" in silk. The to-be-bride-and-groom and from four to eight or ten friends go to the stores together and select the lady's dress, shoes, hat, &c., and they buy the best to be had. The prospective groom pays the bill. Usually, especially at Polish weddings, a dance is kept up from one to two days and every man who is present is supposed to dance with the bride, for which privilege he pays $1.00 every time he dances with her. The money thus paid goes to the groom and he pays all wedding expenses, beer, &c., and in many cases has money enough left to buy everything necessary for house keeping.

Surprise Party. Miss Jessie Robertson, who had been in Butler county some time and returned home a few days ago, was given a surprise party last Saturday evening. OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED.

The Annual Borough and Township Election to be held February 20th.

Election for borough and township officers will be held next month, February 20th, but the law provides that certificates of nomination and the nomination papers shall be filed at least eighteen and fifteen days respectively before the day of election, so that certificates of nomination must be filed on or before February 2nd and nomination papers not later than February 5th. The citizens of Reynoldsville will be called upon to elect two school directors, two members of town council, a chief burgess, tax collector, justice-of-the-peace, one auditor, two judges of election, one for each precinct, four inspectors of election, two for each precinct.

It is high time that the political parties of this borough begin to look for candidates for the above offices. Each party should put up the very best men in their ranks and then the citizens should select the best men in the field and vote for them on election day. Politics ought not to figure conspicuously in electing borough officials. The best available material is what the town should have, be the candidates Republican, Democrat or Prohibitionist.

President Dr. J. W. Foust and Dr. A. H. Bowser will retire from the school board unless re-elected.

S. B. Elliott and Richard Smith will retire from town council, but are eligible for re-election.

H. Alex. Stoke will retire from the office of chief burgess, having served three years, and under the law cannot succeed himself.

Justices-of-the-peace are elected for five years, but can succeed themselves if they so desire and get votes enough. The present term of John M. Hays will expire on Monday, May 7th.

William T. Cox was elected tax collector three years ago. He served two years and declined to serve as collector last year, therefore, George W. Swartz was appointed by the court as tax collector for 1899.

WEST REYNOLDSVILLE. In West Reynoldsville the following officers will be elected at the February election: Burgess, high constable, tax collector, two school directors, three councilmen, one poor overseer, judge of election, inspector of election.

J. C. McEntire retires from office of burgess, having served the full term—three years. George O. Riggs, deceased, was the high constable. S. E. Brewer was elected tax collector three years ago and only served two years. Squire W. L. Johnston being appointed by the court to serve as tax collector last year. David Bollinger and John C. Richards retire as school directors; Alex. Best, Samuel Sutter and James Orr retire as members of town council. George O. Riggs, deceased, was the poor overseer whose term would have expired at this time.

Republican Committee Meeting.

In response to the call of the chairman, there was a meeting of the Republican county committeemen at Brookville Monday afternoon. There was a large attendance and the meeting was a "warm" one. The object of the meeting, as stated in Chairman Kurtz's call, was to arrange for holding a primary election on the 3rd Tuesday of February, 1900, for the election of delegates to the State and National conventions and the nomination of a candidate for Congress and a candidate for State Senator, also for the purpose of submitting amendments to the present rules so as to provide for the holding of primary elections in Presidential and gubernatorial years for the nomination of all candidates to be placed upon the ticket in such years, at any date earlier than the third Saturday in June, as now provided for in said rules. After a very "stormy time," which was not a credit to the body of gentlemen assembled, it was finally settled by the committeemen that candidates for Congress and State Senate would be nominated at the time of February election, when delegates to State and National conventions are elected. Candidates for Assembly and District Attorney will be nominated at the regular June primary.
